> Sad and unexpected news arrived with credit for four years. this morning in the form of a cablegram from Manlin, Philippine Isiands, announcing the death there of General Thomas E. Moss, the well known Paducah attorney.

The message was from Mrs. Marie Moss Wheat, Major Moss' daughter, to her brother, Dr. Thomas E. Moss, who left the city only a few days Margaret, daughter of Jesse D. ago for Manlla. It simply stated, 'Father is dead.'

The message was delivered to reiatives of the deceased.

Hon. Thomas E. Moss was born in Greenshurg, Green county, Ky., on the 14th day of March, 1840. He was reared principally in Hickman county, received his preparatory education in Columbia coilege, and completed it in a private ans, on the eve of his departure for school in Hickman county.

Having decided on the profession of law, he in 1857 entered the office of Bigger & Thompson, at Paducah, where he pursued his studies health, and might never return. If until the early part of 1859, when he dled, and no matter where he he entered the law department at the University at Louisville, from which he graduated the same year.

He then located in Paducah for practice but soon after became a member of the Second Confederate regiment, C. S. I.ADIKS if you suffer and are discouraged by previous failures in obtaining relier: con the contract of the co have tried the simplest, and surest onie of them all.

Its simplicity is its greatest virtue, it has been before the public for many years, and has cured thousands of suffering women after everything else had failed. Perhaps some in their anxiety to obtain a speedy cure, have experimented with more expensive remedies, have spent large sums of money and not having obtained the relief sought after, have become skeptical and doubt the existence of a positive cure for these troubles. Try this simple home treatment, with which you can cure yourself privately at home, without medical aid, and your doubts will be dispelled. It cures promptly, thoroughly and permanently; irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacements or ulcerations of the womb, that bearing down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, lassitude, nervous and ail complaints peculiar to women.

The Adventure of the Abbey Grange

No. 12 of the Series (Continued from yesterday.)

"You should have no difficulty in get ting him."

Not the slightest. We have been on the lookout for lilnt, and there was America. Now that we know that the gang are here I don't see how they enn escape. We have the news at every seaport already, and a reward will be offered before evening. What beats me is how they could have done so mad a Jiling knowing that the lady could describe them and that we could not full to recognize the description." "Exactly. One would have expected that they would have sllenced Lady Bruckenstall as well." "They may not have realized," I suggested, "that she had recovered from her faint.

"Ite was a good bearted man when be was sober, but a perfect field when he was drunk, or rather when he was half drunk, for he seldom really went the whole way. The devil seemed to be In him at such times, and he was capa ble of anything. From what I hear, ir spite of all his wealth and his title he very nearly came our way once or twice. There was a scandal about his drenelding a dog with petroleum and setting it on tire her hadyship's dog, to make the matter worse and that was only bushed up with difficulty. Then he threw a decenter at that mail. The reso Wright: there was trouble about that. On the whole, and between our selves, it will be a brighter house with out him. What are you looking at Hotmes was down on his knees examining with great attention the knots unce the red cord with which the indr had been secured. Then he carefully scruttulzed the proken and fraved end where it had supped off when the burglar had dragged it down.

"When this was milled down the bell in the kitchen must have rong loudly.

he remarked. "No one could hear it. The kitchen stands right at the back of the house." 'llow did the burgher know no one would hear it? How dared he pull at n tiell rope in that reckless fashlon?"

Plynotty Atr. Holmes, exactly, You put the very question which I have asked myself agola and agala. There can be no doubt that this fellow must have known the house and its habits He must have perfectly understood that the servants would all be in bed at that comparatively early hour and that on one could possibly hear a bell ring in the kitchen. Therefore he must have been in close league with one of the servants. Surely that is evident. But there are eight servants, and all of good character."

"Other things being equal," said tiolines, "one would suspect the one at whose head the master threw a decanter. And yet that would involve treachery toward the mistress to whon this woman seems devoted. Well, well, the point is a minor one, and when you have Handall you will probably find no difficulty in securing his ac complice. The lady's story certainly scens to be corroborated, if it needecorroboration, by every detail which we see before us." He walked to the French window and threw it open, "There are no signs here, but the ground is iron hard, and one would not expect them. I see that these candles in the manteiplece have been Helifort."

"Yes; it was by their light and that of the lady's bedroom candle that the burglars saw their way about." "And what did they take?"

"Well, they did not take much-only half a dozen urticles of idate off the shieboard. Lady Brackenstull thinks that they were themselves so disturbed by the death of Sir Enslace that they dld not ransuck the house, as they would otherwise have done,"

"No doubt that is true, and yet they drauk some wine, I understand." "To stendy their herves,"

"Exactly. These three glasses upon the sideboard have been untouched, I

"Yes, and the bottle stands as they left It."

"Let us look at It. Hello, hello! What is this?" The three glasses were grouped to gether, all of them tinged with wine and one of them containing some dregs of beetwing. The hottle stood near them, two thirds full, and beside it my a long, deeply stained cork. I kapperrance and the dust upon the bottle showed that was no common vintage which the murderers had enjoyed, change had come over Holmes' manuer. He had lost his listless expression, and ugaln I saw un alert ight of interest in his Leon, deep set eye a lie talsed the cork and examlined it iniffacely.

"How did they draw it?" he asked. Hopkins pointed to a tailf opened drawer. In ti lay some table linen and a large corl screw

some blea that he had got away to un hich and a half long. If you will three times before the cork was extructed. It has never been transfixed. This long serew would have transfixed it and drawn it up with a single pell. When you catch this fellow you will find that be has one of these multiplex kulves in his possession."

"Excetlent!" said Hopkins. "But these glasses do puzzle me, I onfess, Lady Itrickenstall actually saw the three men drinking, did she

"Yes: she was clear about that." "Then there is not end of it. What nore is to be said? And yet you must admit that the three glasses are very remarkable, Hopkins, Whal? You see nothing remarkable? Well, well, let it offsi. Perhaps when a man has special knowledge and special powers like my own it rather encourages him to seek a complex explanation when a simpler one is at hand. Of course it must be a mere chance about the glasses. Well. good morning, Hopkins, 1 don't see that I can be of any use to you, and you appear to have your pass very clear, You will let me know when Itandall is arrested and any further developments are indicative of constitution or dewhich may occur. I trust that I shall billty soon ltave to congratulate you upon a August Flower is the only medicine a large corl screw.

"Did Lady Brackenstall say that screw was used?"

"No; you remember that she was senseless at the moment when the bottle was opened."

"Quite so. As a matter of fact, like screw was not used. This bottle was opened by a pocket screw, probably contained in a knife and not more than an high and a half long. HEALTH CERTIFICATES FROM PADUCAH NOT HONORED IN CAIRO.

The Only Way to Get in is by Getting Permit Bron. Cutro in Advance.

Mr. A. II. McCarthy, a well-known locomotive engineer went to Cairo Ill., last night equipped with a health certifiente and affidavit from Paducah. He was arrested upon presenting II, and kept in a box car until the next train started for Paducah. The health certificate was signed by Health Officer Graves. Mr. McCarthy was told that the only way he could get into Cairo was by telephoning or telegraphing there for a per-

"Well, I'm here, just give me the perinit," said Mr. McCarthy, "and let me in. I dld what I was informed was the proper thing."

"No, you have to go back," he was told, and he did.

He brought back a letter from Dr. Paimer, which stated that no one had authority to aanounce that any health certificates whatever from Pa ducah would be recognized in Cairo. It said that there was only one way to get into Cairo, and that was by obtaining a permit first. The letter says plainly that l'aducah health errtificates would not be recognized
